On Sept. 8, 1565, a small band of Spaniards celebrated Mass on the shores of North Florida in preparation for starting a settlement there. They named their new home St. Augustine in honor of the saint on whose feast day they sighted land. Thus were the seeds of Christianity first sown in America north of Mexico.

St. Augustine is the site of the first permanent parish church, now the Cathedral Basilica. The famed Santa Fe Trail originated here. It was from here that Franciscan missionaries began their trek north and west to proclaim the Good News. It was here that the first schools and hospitals were established.

It was not until March 11, 1870, that Florida, east of the Apalachicola River, was designated as the Diocese of St. Augustine. The growth of the church in Florida from this Mother Diocese to six additional dioceses and nearly two million Catholics is a significant part of the story of the Catholic Church in the United States. Today, the Diocese of St. Augustine embraces 17 counties spanning the northeast section of Florida from the Gulf of Mexico to the Atlantic Ocean. It covers 11,032 square miles and serves 153,041 registered Catholics.

Santa Fe Shrine of Our Lady of La Leche (Est. 2015)
The 24-acre shrine provides people living in the western counties of the diocese a place for pilgrimage and spiritual renewal. The name of the shrine, “Santa Fe” (meaning “Holy Faith”) is derived from an old Franciscan mission named “Santa Fe Toloca” (one of the “La Florida” missions) once located near the famous 75-mile Santa Fe River which crisscrosses the High Springs area. The shrine is located at St. Madeleine Sophie Catholic Church in High Springs, Fla. It includes unique devotional opportunities for pilgrims in addition to spending time with Mary, in the shrine like walking the 1.5 mile Emmaus Trail, visiting the Marian grotto and statue of St. Joseph and praying at the outdoor Stations of the Cross. There is also a Memorial Garden and Cemetery on the property.

A pilgrimage is a spiritual journey. We don’t choose our destination; it is God drawing us into Himself. Something inside us simply yearns to go. We feel invited, even summoned. [...] going affords us the opportunity to leave behind that which hinders us from moving forward.

The office assists pastors and church workers so that local evangelization efforts, programs and ministries can flourish. This includes a collaborative effort to help all church workers with self-awareness, their faith, needs assessment and skills development so that in every touchpoint they have with the people of God, they are equipped with unique, intentional abilities to boldly walk with those who have fallen away, need help progressing in their faith journey, and welcome the outcast. The office is critical to the bishop’s vision of missionary transformation, ecclesial renewal and addressing the social and formation needs within the diocese.
